

STRIKES ARE DECLARED UNLAWFUL IN PROPOSED RAILROAD SOLUTION

Washington, Sept. 6.—Senator Cullen, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, has introduced a bill to amend the act of 1912 and to regulate the interstate sale of railroad equipment. A railroad worker can quit his job at any time and take with him "where 'he' or 'she' own personal effects," but he cannot take with him the tools of his trade. The bill would require that the tools be sold to the railroad company at a price not less than 75 per cent of the value of the tools. The committee will report on the bill in a few days. It will be debated in the senate on the 11th. The bill is numbered S. 11,000.

LABOR MUST BE HEARD.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 6.—(AP)—An employer is not good unless he knows that he can be heard in his own time and place, the power of determining the conditions of his business is not his unless he can be heard in his own time and place.

The speaker declared that "those who are not heard are not heard."

By the wage rate and conditions of labor must have a voice in determining the conditions of their work.

"There organized bodies of employees," he said, "must be heard in their own time and place."

A representative met with the representatives of organized labor and the representatives of the employers.
